Allies March on Teheran As Iran Shah Quits Throne

LONDON (CP) — British and Russian troops tonight were reported marching on the Iranian capital of Teheran as Shah Riza Khan Pahlavi abdicated under threat of such action.

Britain and Russia accused the Shah and his government of dilatory tactics in carrying out an agreement to expel or deliver to the allies all German, Hungarian, Italian and Rumanian nationals.

The Shah's abdication was announced before a special session of the Iranian Parliament, the Teheran radio stated, the official reason being ill health.

The Shah who ascended the throne in 1925, was reported to have fled the capital, but his whereabouts were not disclosed immediately. It was announced he would be succeeded by his 21-year-old son, the European-educated Crown Prince, Shahpoor Mohammed Riza.

Informed quarters here said they thought Teheran would be occupied without Iranian opposition. The capital was not included in the zones which previously had been agreed upon for occupation by British and Russian troops. The Russian zone was a strip running north of the capital, and the British territory was laid out in the southwest to include Iran's valuable oil fields.

It was stated by an authoritative British source that occupation of the capital had been pending for several days.

Efforts of the Iranians to co-operate with Britain and Russia were being impeded, it was said, by German nationals and sympathizers among the Iranians. Popular dissatisfaction with the Shah's regime had been reported.

The British authorities said it had become "virtually obvious" that "hidden influences were hindering our work wherever possible and helping the Germans" in Iran.

SHAH RIZA—LOSES THRONE

Tass, Russian news agency, in a dispatch, said the Shah himself had approved a pro-Axis editorial in the newspaper Ettelaat recently against which both the Russian and British envoys formally protested.

The Iranian people, according to Tass, are "expressing great alarm." The Russian agency said "there is apparent dissatisfaction with the provocative behavior of certain officials, and the leadership of the army is closely tied with German agents."

Shahpoor Mohammed Riza was sent to Switzerland to be educated in 1931. The way his father "spoiled" him was common talk at the time. The young prince had a large car and a fine horse, and was never happier than when riding with troops on manoeuvres. In 1939 he married Princess Fawzieh, sister of King Farouk of Egypt.

Thus the career of the Shah comes to an end as sudden as his rise to power. He was picked out of native troops in 1921 by the British commander in North Persia, Sir Edmund Ironside (now Lord Ironside), who found himself faced by the problem of finding a native commander strong enough to control the native levies hitherto under British command.

Riza Khan suppressed lawlessness in the country and four years later this peasant's son was elected to the peacock throne vacated by Sultan Ahmad, who had been deposed.

10 Paris Hostages Shot, Nazi Officers Fired At

PARIS (AP)—A German non-commissioned officer was shot at but not hit here today after a German firing squad had executed 10 hostages, six of them "foreigners" for attacks on other German soldiers.

At the same time it was learned another German non-commissioned officer was seriously wounded Monday night before execution of the hostages.

The assault today occurred in a subway station. Several shots were fired. Identity of the German was not disclosed.

The man wounded Monday was said to be in "very serious condition." He was attacked on the Boulevard Strasbourg, in the heart of the city's commercial district and near the east station where another German sergeant was wounded September 3.

Two bullets lodged in the German's back.

Heinrich von Stuepnagel, commander of the German occupying forces in Paris said the 10 executions were in retaliation for attacks on men of the army of occupation September 6, 10 and 11, a notice informed the public.

The notice was sent to newspapers of the occupied zone and was posted on house walls.

The evening after these executions, a German officer was shot, another shot at but missed, a German military garage was fired and a German military official assaulted. Subsequently, a German officer was clubbed and another manhandled in Paris streets.

As far as is known, the actual attackers have not been apprehended.

The latest executions — any political prisoner of the Germans is considered a hostage — appeared to check the announced desire of Fernand de Brinon, the Vichy ambassador in Paris, to take charge of punishing opposition to occupation authority.

The Communists, de Brinon declared, have promised there will be 10 reprisals for every hostage shot by the Germans.

The German ration appeared to be three hostages executed for every German army man attacked.

The executions brought to 13 the number officially announced. Three hostages were shot at dawn September 6 for an attack on a sergeant.

DEATH SENTENCE

From Vichy came word the military court of the 15th military region at Marseille today condemned to death for treason a man identified only as Andrew Bernard.

The trial was held in secret and no details were available.

Meanwhile a special court at Marseille imposed prison terms ranging from one to 10 years upon 13 persons convicted of distributing Communist propaganda. This raised to 30 the number reported convicted in France for such activity in the past 24 hours.

Seventeen persons were convicted of Communist activity by special courts in the German-occupied zone. Eleven at Nancy, four at Dijon and two at Amiens were sentenced to one to eight years in prison.

JAILED FOR LIFE

OSLO, German-occupied Norway (via Berlin) (AP) — Friedrich Ramm, a Norwegian journalist accused of fomenting opposition to the Quisling government, was sentenced to life imprisonment today as the courts continued to deal with patriot elements after lifting of a state of civil siege at Oslo. It had been in effect one week.

School authorities were notified that their institutions might be closed if there was any indication they were giving encouragement to "Communist" activity.

CONFISCATION

THE HAGUE, Holland (AP) — German authorities today ordered confiscation of all property within the German-occupied Netherlands belonging to living members of the House of Orange and Nassau, headed by Queen Wilhelmina, now in Britain.

Queen Wilhelmina has palaces at the Hague, a summer residence called Het Loo at Apeldoorn, and Dam Palace at Amsterdam. Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard have a palace at Soestdyk, where their children were born. In addition they have a number of farms and other property, the value of which is not at present estimated.

Where occupation authorities do not need the seized properties they will be used for "purposes of general benefit," the confiscating order stated.

Explaining the action, Arthur Seys-Inquart, the German commissioner, said the Queen "clings obstinately to the Bolshevik-capitalist front. She thereby excludes herself from the community of new Europe."

BERLIN EXECUTIONS

BERLIN (AP) — The people's court announced the execution today of five men, four of them convicted of "preparation for high treason" and the fifth of spying for a foreign power. This brought the total of executions for these crimes for the year to 29.

Tanks in Gigantic Battle

Associated Press

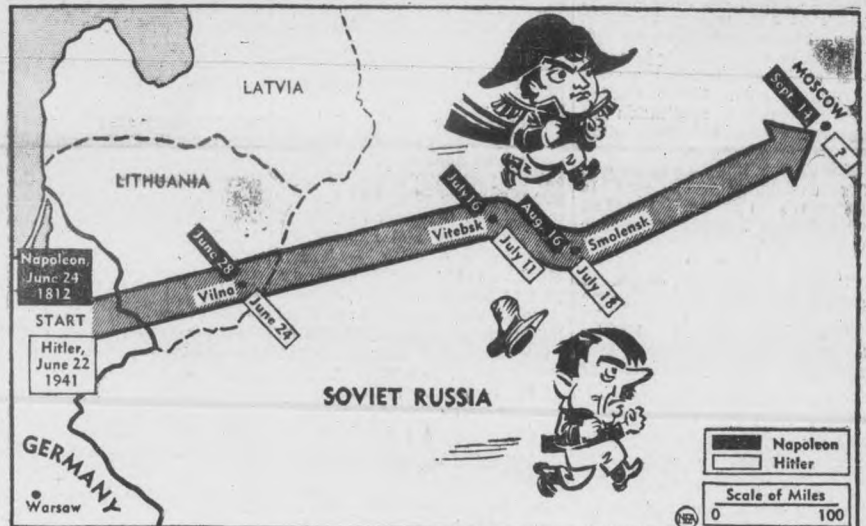

A gigantic battle of heavy tanks for "an important point on the approaches of Leningrad" was reported by the Russian army newspaper Red Star today to have ended in a complete rout of the Germans, who were said to have left hundreds of dead on the battlefield.

In another sector of the vast battlefield around Leningrad, fierce Red Army counterattacks hurled the Germans from a string of islands in river "N." Red Star reported. The Nazis held on under a hurricane of machine-gun, rifle and trench mortar fire, but in the end were forced to retreat. Now the islands are securely held by the Russians.

The German high command claimed defeat, effectively supported by airplanes, have established bridgeheads at important points across the lower Dnieper and that the German army has pushed further eastward on a broad front.

Hitler's field headquarters claimed defeat of three entire Russian armies 150 miles south of Leningrad. Nine divisions were declared "completely annihilated" and nine more "crushed with the bloodiest of losses."

Germans admitted the Black Sea port of Odessa, though besieged by German-Rumanian forces for more than a month and Reliable sources in London said today Germany has been compelled to withdraw "nearly 500,000 seasoned troops from the Low Countries and occupied France" by the demands of the Russian campaign.

This source said the troops withdrawn were being replaced by younger recruits and soldiers over 35 years old. There is reason to believe, however, that western Europe still is garrisoned by approximately 800,000 men, the same number that has been there for several months.

Axis Bombs Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Cairo suffered its first air raid of the war today, when Axis planes bombed the city heavily, killing 39 civilians and wounding 93.

This apparently opened the way for British bombing of Rome, for Britain last spring warned that bombing of either Cairo or Athens would bring reprisals against Rome.

Cairo is a holy city to the Moslem world.

Although Alexandria, site of a British naval base, has been bombed frequently, Cairo had escaped heretofore, and Athens proper was not bombed throughout the Balkan campaign.

The British government warning to the Axis came from No. 10 Downing Street, April 18, and stated that once the bombing of Rome started "it will continue as convenient to the end of the war."

It added the greatest care would be taken to spare Vatican City, but charged that the Italians were prepared to drop captured British bombs there.

German officials the next day asserted that they did not intend to bomb either Athens or Cairo.

King Peter Given Honor

LONDON (CP)—The King and Queen, Prime Minister Churchill, and heads of allied governments attended a service today at St. Paul's Cathedral celebrating the coming of age of King Peter II of Yugoslavia. He was 18 on September 6.

It was the greatest gathering of rulers and officials in London since the outbreak of war. Canada was represented by High Commissioner Vincent Massey. Hon. R. B. Hanson, Canadian Conservative House leader, also was present.

King Peter was accompanied by his mother, Queen Marie. The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking at the service, said that "seldom has a King entered upon his reign in outward circumstances more dark with difficulty and distress... the King and his people, knowing full well the cost, have put their honor before their safety."

de Larminat, high commissioner of French Equatorial Africa.

"We are not the largest, but, we hope the most ferocious group of fighting men engaged in the struggle that is taking place today."

What will be done with the beast was not disclosed, but probably it will wind up in the Washington zoo.

62 Injured In Mexico Riots

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sixty-two persons suffered serious injuries from fights, stabbings and bullets during scattered outbreaks last night marking the beginning of the capital's celebration of the 131st anniversary of Mexico's independence from Spain.

President Manuel Avila Camacho opened the official celebration at 11 o'clock before 100,000 persons jammed in Zocalo Square, intoning the call to independence and striking Mexico's liberty bell.

The celebration runs for 24 hours, with a military parade at this morning's chief event.

Invite McLarty To Settle Strike

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Officials of the United Automobile Workers of America today extended an invitation to Labor Minister Norman McLarty to come to St. Catharines in an effort to effect a settlement in the McKinnon Industries strike. Activity in all departments of the strike-bound plant of McKinnon was reported today but W. A. Wecker, general manager, had no figures on the number of men at work and unofficial estimates placed the number going through picket lines this morning at less than 275.

Today police prevented large congregations of workers from assembling at the street barriers, but yesterday morning when R.C.M.P. were placed at the approaches to the plant to prevent mass picketing and interference with those wishing to accept Munitions Minister Howe's appeal to return to work.

Union workers of Hayes Steel Products at nearby Merrittton have repudiated their president, Don Jeffrey, and voted support of the McKinnon strikers.

All-out Aid To Russians

LONDON (CP)—W. Averell Harriman, head of the United States delegation to the Moscow war needs conference, said today United States products and raw materials already are reaching Russia in substantial quantities.

"They will continue to reach the Russians in increasing amounts," the lease-lend expert said. "We have a good idea of what the Russians need, and we will do our utmost to see that they get it."

Mr. Harriman said United States ships were "going freely" to Vladivostok, but added "great problems are involved" in getting materials through.

A commission headed by Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply, was designated today to confer with Soviet and United States representatives in Moscow on ways of meeting Russia's war needs.

Besides Lord Beaverbrook the British delegates are: Lieut. Gen. F. M. Mason-MacFarlane, Rear-Admiral G. J. A. Miles and Air Vice-Marshal A. C. Collier, already in Moscow as members of a military mission; Capt. H. H. Balfour, Under-Secretary of State for Air; Major-Gen. Sir Hastings Ismah and Major-Gen. G. N. MacReady.

Mr. Harriman said the Russian war had at first caused a let-down in the United States effort, but declared this situation was improved now and Britain seemed to have a better idea of the urgency of Russian aid.

He said the United States government is "aware of the urgency." The United States mission of 22 or 23 persons, he reported, will leave Britain for Moscow shortly. He said he had drawn two principal conclusions about aid to Russia:

"1. I find Britain determined to give all possible assistance. "2. The American government is equally determined."

R.A.F. Bombers Over Continent

LONDON (CP)—A large force of British bombers blasted at shipyards, factories and railways at the oft-attacked port of Hamburg last night, the Air Ministry said today. Also bombed were the German ports of Cuxhaven, Bremen and Wilhelmshaven and docks at Le Havre in occupied France.

The Hamburg raid lasted several hours and the tons of bombs dropped started many great fires. The Le Havre attack also was described as especially heavy. Nine R.A.F. planes were lost in the night raiding.

(Nazi sources in Berlin said British planes bombed several places in northwestern Germany during the night, causing damage and a number of casualties.)

Meanwhile, the man-in-the-street in the British Isles all but forgot the menace of Nazi air raiders. A communique said only there was nothing to report during the night.

Hanson Greet Lord Bennett

LONDON (CP)—With a hearty "Hello Dick, delighted to see you," Viscount Bennett greeted Hon. R. B. Hanson today as the visiting Canadian Conservative house leader and the former prime minister met unexpectedly in the lobby of the Savoy Hotel while Mr. Hanson was en route to luncheon with Viscount Cranborne, Dominions Secretary.

"Hello, R.B." returned Mr. Hanson, using the same manner of addressing Lord Bennett as in the days when they were cabinet colleagues. The two had what Mr. Hanson described as a "pleasant talk" and arranged for a longer discussion later.

Mr. Hanson also met the Earl of Bessborough, former Governor General of Canada, who invited him to an informal party he is giving shortly for a group of Canadian troops. After luncheon Mr. Hanson had appointments with Maj. Gen. P. J. Montague, chief of Canadian military headquarters, and David Margeson, British War Secretary.

In the morning Mr. Hanson and his party attended a service in St. Paul's Cathedral celebrating the coming of age of King Peter of Yugoslavia. King George and Queen Elizabeth, Prime Minister Churchill and heads of Allied governments in London attended.

TAYLOR WITH POPE

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius received President Roosevelt's envoy, Myron Taylor, for an hour's audience today in which the Pontiff presumably gave his reply to whatever proposals were made in last week's conferences.

Both American and Vatican circles maintained silence, however, on the negotiations between the President and the Pope. Mr. Taylor had his first audience with Pope Pius last Wednesday shortly after arriving from United States.

For Cleaner Victoria Streets

Campaign to keep the streets of Victoria clean of papers and trash has been encouraged by Cecil French, who has devised a new type of receptacle, one of which has been placed on a lamp post opposite the Post Office. It is bright yellow, and the narrow slot permits paper to be put in but prevents depositing garbage in it. It is the hope of Mr. French that firms in the city will obtain the receptacles and have them placed at points where the litter of the streets is most noticeable. The receptacles are made by the Red Cross Workshop.

The words, "Deposit Waste Paper Here" are printed in scarlet letters beneath a large "V" on each of the containers. The street cleaning department of the city will see that they are kept empty and in order.

"When a number of these receptacles have been installed, and the means provided to deposit waste paper, cellophane and cigarette cartons, we can in justice call upon the police to enforce the city by-law prohibiting the deposit of paper and other rubbish on the streets," Mr. French said.

Fourteen have already been ordered by firms in the city, and within two or three weeks they will be placed on lamp-posts at points where they are most needed.

New U.S. Action Worries Axis

ROME (AP)—The Fascist press professed today to foresee inevitable hostilities with the United States as a result of Navy Secretary Frank Knox's announcement yesterday that United States naval vessels would protect ships carrying aid to Britain.

"The United States has really arrived at what is called the last step," said Il Piccolo. "What margin now remains for advertising the drama? None."

Other papers joined Il Piccolo in assailing what Il Piccolo called "the blind irresponsibility of the White House."

"From dawn this morning the American fleet is on a mission of war at sea from America to Iceland," said Il Popolo di Roma. This paper interpreted Col. Knox's announcement as meaning United States warships would escort supply ships for Britain, although noting that the navy secretary refrained from using the word convoy.

A heavy slump on Italian stock markets was reported with especially heavy declines yesterday in textile shares and shares of the big Fiat and Breda companies, makers of airplane and other engines.

GERMAN VIEWS

BERLIN (AP)—Nazi spokesmen today called Navy Secretary Frank Knox "Roosevelt's staff trumpeter" who must always blare out what the President "does not quite dare to tell the American people."

Commenting on Knox's speech before the American Legion convention yesterday, the spokesman said that men such as Knox and Senator Claude Pepper always put into precise language, without speaking officially, "what Roosevelt felt for very good reasons does not say."

New Press Officer Up From Ranks

A westerner has been appointed first press liaison officer for the Western Air Command of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Victoria, B.C. He is Flying Officer Albert George (Bert) Cannings, whose home is at Vancouver. He has three other brothers serving with the R.C.A.F. F.O. Cannings' last Ottawa assignment was as a member of the cast of the motion picture, "Captains of the Clouds," being filmed in conjunction with the R.C.A.F. His stature and bearing gave him

Halifax Looks Beyond War

LONDON (CP)—The broadening of American frontiers beyond the coastal limits of the United States, such as establishment of the defensive outpost in Iceland, will be welcomed by Britain even after the war, Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, declared today.

The envoy described establishment of such outposts as "a reproduction and expansion of the American pioneer spirit."

"The problems of the United States and Britain's defences have come to be considered as one problem," he said, adding that it was a problem which would not cease with the end of hostilities.

Lord Halifax expressed satisfaction with the production of war materials by United States, saying "as the United States industrial capacities get going, things will look much different."

Commenting on Britain's civil defence, Lord Halifax said he noted the nation was fully prepared for a possible renewal of heavy air raids. He also said there was marked extension of communal camaraderie and co-operation because of sharing dangers and responsibilities.

This, he said, doubtless will continue after the war, to Britain's benefit.

The ambassador, who spoke at a Ministry of Information press conference, said he hoped to return to United States soon.

EX-CONVICT HELD IN MURDER CASE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A literary ex-convict, who came out of prison with tuberculosis, was held for questioning today about the bludgeoning of the wife of the doctor who cured him.

Her skull crushed, the body of Mrs. Florence Stricker, 42-year-old heiress, was found Saturday night by her husband, Dr. George H. Stricker. She had been slugged, then shoved in a closet.

The house was topsy-turvy, indicating a hasty search for valuables, and Dr. Stricker said diamond rings which his wife was wearing were missing.

Ernest G. Booth, 43, who began writing in prison, was taken into custody Sunday. Yesterday he was booked on suspicion of murder. He denied any knowledge of the death, told how Dr. Stricker had treated him for three years, how the Strickers had invited the Booths to their home, and how he and the doctor were collaborating on a book. Then he said:

"Anyone who thinks I'd repay kindness with murder doesn't know me." Booth penned "Ladies of the Mob," later made into a movie starring Clara Bow, "We Rob a Bank," and "Stealing Through Life," while he was still behind bars. He has written magazine articles and worked as a scenarist at movie studios in recent months.

'Mixed' Marriages

MONTREAL (CP)—The Court of King's Bench, in an unanimous judgment has ruled that the celebration of so-called "mixed" marriages by a Protestant clergyman is legal and valid in the province of Quebec. The court, sitting in appeal, ruled that such a marriage cannot be overturned by annulment because of religious faiths of the contracting parties.

The decision of the highest tribunal in the province was believed to have solved a legal problem which has existed since 1908. It was the first time that Court of King's Bench had been able to pass judgment on such a case, as annulments granted from time to time in the Superior Court had never resulted in appeals.

Europe Today

Great Armies Immobile
But People Remain Uncrushed

By DON WHITEHEAD
NEW YORK (AP)—Revolt is stirring among Europe's restless millions. From Norway to Greece, dark figures slip through the night to kill, burn, wreck and spy on the occupying forces.

Some are caught in the gestapo's net or by the military police. Then the firing squads tramp through the grey dawn. Or bodies dangle from the hangman's noose.

Not for a moment can Hitler relax his vigilance over the occupied countries. The Germans defeated the armies, but they haven't crushed the people... and many watch hopefully in the belief that the Nazi hold finally may be broken by revolution.

The vignettes of violence, intrigue and revolt coming out of Europe form a bloody pattern.

NORWAY

One night a German sentry plodded his beat on the waterfront in Oslo while the city seemed asleep. A stealthy figure moved out of the shadow. A thin steel knife blade gleamed in the moonlight. There was a smothered cry, and a splash in the water.

German military police found the sentry's body next morning. They couldn't find his gun.

The moon hadn't risen when a small boat set out from an isolated fishing village on the west coast of Norway and headed toward Britain. The three men aboard waited tensely for a warning shot from shore. None came. They ran the gauntlet to Britain, these three. They could have stayed, safe from the invaders who had overrun their country.

But a few days later they were in their little boat headed back toward Norway. They carried with them a radio transmitter set to establish communication with Britain and plans for organizing anti-German elements in their homeland for sabotage and revolt.

This time their luck played out. A firing squad wrote finish to their adventure.

Ever since Vidkun Quisling helped the Nazis in their invasion of Norway and his name became synonymous with treason, the Norwegians have openly and passively fought the Germans.

Once a bomb exploded near Quisling, but he escaped injury. Street fighting broke out in many towns.

The situation rushed to a climax last week when Joseph Terboven, German commissioner for Norway, clamped Oslo and its environs under civil siege. Death or imprisonment to those who opposed the Nazis! And no appeal.

Oslo became a virtual prison for 500,000 Norwegians. Steel helmeted German troops with Tommy guns patrolled the streets.

FRANCE

A German colonel entered a Paris subway. There was a scuffle. He was stabbed to death. The lives of French hostages were held forfeit for subversive acts against the Nazi troops of occupation.

Trains running out of Paris were wrecked... factory production slowed to a snail's pace... a Free French sympathizer tried to assassinate Pierre Laval, Nazi collaborationist, and Marcel Deat, former French air minister.

Paris police offered a reward of 1,000,000 francs (about $20,000) for information leading to the arrest of railroad saboteurs. French civilian watchmen were conscripted to guard the railroads.

NEW PRISONER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson of Vancouver have been advised by the British Air Ministry that their son, P.O. Ralph (Hunk) Henderson, R.C.A.F., previously reported missing in air operations overseas, is a prisoner of war in Germany.

Henderson was a well-known athlete, having played for Vancouver Maple Leafs and U.B.C. when they won Canadian senior men's basketball championships. He was also an outstanding Canadian football player while at the university.

MONTREAL (CP)—F.O. Hugh John Findlay, 29, of Carleton Place, Ont., was killed in action Sept. 14 while serving overseas with the R.C.A.F., according to a cable received here. Mrs. Margaret Gillies of Nanaimo, B.C., is a sister.

In Indo-China

Japan Soldier Becomes
'Little Man Not There'

SAIGON, French Indo-China (AP)—To the Frenchman in Indo-China the Japanese soldier has become "the little man who isn't there."

Of course, he is here, and in large numbers, sent into this helpless French colony to forestall alleged "British intentions" against it. He is, as the official pronouncement put it, the guardian of Indo-China's sovereignty and independence.

But the French merely ignore him.

There is no rudeness, no outright discourtesy, no obvious contempt. The French simply don't see the Japanese.

In a military sense they were powerless a year ago when Japan pressed the thin edge of the entering wedge against the colony. They have even less power or hope of resistance today.

Vichy governs Indo-China and the deal to send a Japanese army there was arranged in Vichy.

HELPLESS

So now a Japanese army is here. More troops are coming. Japanese businessmen are rapidly burrowing into the rich fabric of Indo-China's economy. British and United States companies are liquidating, reducing staffs, sending their people home.

The French are helpless, but not beaten.

They haven't surrendered. They are not without hope.

All over Indo-China you see the French walk past Japanese sentries, with fixed bayonets, without so much as a glance. Not a head is turned when the Japanese roll past in their cars or stroll in groups through the streets.

Japanese enter French coffee shops. The Annamite waiter—a past master at delay and obstruction—somehow takes long moments to get around for the order.

And then, even if the order is given in French (which it seldom is) he seems to have enormous difficulty in understanding. Eventually, he has to call someone else. That calls for another delay.

The Japanese get the idea.

In their turn, however, they have been behaving extremely well. They have none of the conquering-army attitude, so manifest in occupied China. Their cars and trucks aren't roaring through the street, reckless of traffic and traffic lights, as they have done in Shanghai. There has been no discourtesy, no carousing after dark.

STRICT ORDERS

Apparently they have strict orders.

"Making friends with us," said a Frenchman with a little smile. "They learned that from the Germans. It will succeed here in just about the same proportion as it is succeeding in France."

From the man in the street comes a welter of conflicting opinion, all shades and hues of political thought, from staunch Vichy to furious Free French. They are French who have the conviction that a "new world order" is in the making. Not, they add, Japan's "new order in east Asia," but the one proclaimed by Berlin and Vichy.

There is some bitterness against the democracies but it is coupled with the belief that the only real hope for Indo-China lies in a defeat of the Germans.

Frenchmen say they asked the United States and Britain for help last year, when Japan made her first gestures toward this colony, but that they refused.

"We weren't as important to you as the Netherlands Indies, where there is so much that you need. Ah, there your attitude was quick and clear."

The other side of this story is that when Indo-China appealed for help, her leaders were asked to declare themselves and the colony—Vichy or Free French? Men who claim to know insist that no concise answer ever reached Washington and London, that the French here were reluctant to commit themselves.

So today a Japanese army of occupation is in Indo-China. The French are down, but not out. Privately, they will talk of what they plan to do "après la guerre," or when the opportunity presents itself.

Meanwhile, the Japanese is "the little man who isn't there."

WANTS CONSCRIPTION

CAPT. THOMAS MAGLADERY, president of the Canadian Legion for Ontario, told the War Amputations of Canada in Hamilton the Dominion government should institute conscription of both wealth and manpower. "If we are going to give 100 per cent aid to the British Empire, the Canadian Legion and other servicemen organizations know that we must have conscription of wealth and manpower," he said.

Greeks Hungry,
Soldiers Suffer

ANKARA (AP)—Greeks in Athens are collapsing in the streets from hunger and their suffering is being shared by numbers of British and Australian soldiers who failed to escape and are hiding in small towns and mountain villages, a recently arrived neutral observer reported here.

The situation of Allied soldiers left behind in the withdrawal from Greece was said to be especially difficult because they are without credentials for obtaining food.

The traveler said the food situation was made increasingly acute by a ban prohibiting fishermen from going more than five miles off shore. This, he explained, was ordered largely because a number of Greeks, British and Australians were escaping in fishing boats.

Men and women who formerly refused to be seen with Germans now are capitulating socially as a means of getting food, the informant said.

Need Men Now
To Win--Casgrain

OTTAWA (CP)—An appeal to Canadians not to put off enlistment or wait for others to come forward was made by Hon. Pierre Casgrain, Secretary of State, in a reconsecration week address broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation last night.

Canada needs soldiers now, he said, and needs them in greater numbers than they were needed in the last war.

If Canadians did not accept the obligations of citizenship and respond to the calls of their country and their own consciences the war was lost in advance and Canada would be conquered.

The idea of a German conquest of Canada was in the Nazi plan, said Mr. Casgrain. Dr. Colin Ross, a Nazi who visited Canada in 1934 wrote a book called "Between the United States and the Pole" in which he said: "The vital space sought by Hitler is Canada. Canada is an open area, destined to absorb our surplus population as well as our surplus energy."

French-Canadians had "spiritual motives as well as material reasons for entering the war," he said.

"Because we are in a minority we are the more justified in entering the fight because we know the fate in store for minorities under German rule, especially when they practice, as we do, the Catholic religion and speak the French language," he said.

BOSS OF U.S. NAVY is Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of operations, who any day now may give the order to fire on Axis ships, acting on instructions of his commander-in-chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

ARCHDUKE TO VICTORIA

ARCHDUKE OTTO, heir apparent to the throne of Austria-Hungary, said in Winnipeg he doesn't believe one German Nazi will leave Vienna alive when Hitler loses his stronghold there.

"There are 126,000 Austrians in concentration camps who have only one thought—to get revenge on Hitler," he said, adding he has been receiving a "great deal" of information from Austria and claimed the people there are preparing for revolt.

"Germans go into mountains and never return," he said. "Some of those mountain districts are still in the hands of anti-Nazi groups. In two counties on the Austro-Italian border it has been ordered that no German in uniform must travel alone. They must go in threes."

The Archduke is crossing Canada, visiting Hungarians and Austrians. He will arrive in Victoria at the end of the month.

HATE COMMUNISM

National Commander MILO J. WARNER of Toledo, O., told delegates to the American Legion national convention in Milwaukee the German invasion of Russia called for no change in the legion's attitude toward Communism but rather should strengthen its guard against the Soviet philosophy of government.

"We still hate Hitler; we still hate Communism and all that it implies," Warner asserted.

NO PLEASURE TRIP

Another of those "in-law" stories, from the national revenue department:

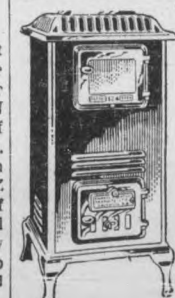

A customs officer on the Peace Bridge at Fort Erie, Ont., asked the United States tourist whether he was coming to Canada on a pleasure trip.

"Heavens, no," said the tourist. "I'm coming to visit the wife's folks."

PRAYERS FOR PEACE

POPE PIUS asked Catholics throughout the world today to pray during the month of October for a shortening of the war. His appeal for special prayer was made to bishops through Papal representatives in each country. The Vatican City newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, announced.

A new government plant to produce maps for national defence use from air photographs is being established in Virginia, near Washington.

As From Today

MR. ROOSEVELT'S ADDRESS TO THE world last Thursday night may have left some minds in a puzzled state as they tried to interpret the precise meaning of the Presidential promise that United States naval forces would shoot at enemy vessels as soon as they were sighted in areas considered vital to the adequate defence of American territory and interests. Such uncertainty on this point as may have existed, however, was removed by Mr. Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, in his speech before the American Legion in convention in Milwaukee yesterday. Here are his words:

"Beginning tomorrow (meaning today), the American navy will provide protection as adequate as we can make it for ships of every flag carrying lend-aid supplies between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland. These ships are ordered to capture or destroy by every means at their disposal, Axis-controlled submarines or surface raiders encountered in these waters. That is our answer to Mr. Hitler's declaration that he will try to sink every ship his vessels encounter on the routes leading from United States to British ports."

It has taken a few days for our neighbor to distribute her fighting vessels in those areas which separate the New World from the strategic island of Iceland. Thus it may be presumed from the precise wording of Mr. Knox's statement that from this day on, Axis interference with shipping—British, American, or neutral—in waters so defined will involve shooting by craft flying the Stars and Stripes. It should be noted, incidentally, the Navy Secretary was careful to avoid the use of the politically-explosive word "convoy." He is just as adept in nursing phrases as the President. But even the least imaginative soul knows full well that when Mr. Knox gave the potential signal for action to begin, he turned the tables on the totalitarian powers which, hitherto, have drawn up their own schedules in the secret surroundings of the Brenner Pass or by other devices of which the general public has learned only by accomplished facts. It is for Hitler or Mussolini, or both, to test the warning Mr. Roosevelt issued last Thursday.

The implication of Mr. Knox's announcement, however, extends further than his definition of the area which today wears the "Verboten" sign for all Axis craft to observe. It indirectly involves the United States Neutrality Act that forbids American shipping to enter the war zone—meaning, in this instance, the British Isles themselves. In other words, if hostilities between our neighbor's war vessels and those of the enemy should occur, it would seem that all the fine legal points embraced by a law duly enacted by the Congress at Washington would be automatically brushed away, leaving Hitler and his gang responsible for robbing a highly-controversial phase of American national policy of its force and effect. A long-drawn-out debate on a proposal to repeal the act, of course, is the last thing Mr. Roosevelt and his administration desire.

What transpires on the grey face of the Atlantic from now on, therefore, is a problem which the totalitarians must tackle among themselves. No longer is there the slightest doubt about the course the United States navy will pursue. It is for the Axis powers to decide whether to vacate the "defensive area" broadly outlined by Mr. Roosevelt, or adopt a policy which, as sure as day follows night, will bring the great Republic into the war with neither "ifs" nor "buts."

Shah Abdicates

WHAT HAS TRANSPIRED IN TEHRAN during the last few days to induce Shah Riza Khan Pahlavi to abdicate in favor of his son is not clear as we write. But it is obvious that either with or without the monarch's assistance and connivance tardy removal of German agents from the Iranian capital has caused both British and Russian authorities some concern. While the reason given by Tehran advisers is ill-health—the first reference to the Shah's physical and mental well-being we have noted—there are suggestions that popular dissatisfaction with his regime has been manifesting itself during the last few weeks. What is clear, however, is that the abdication followed rapidly after British and Russian authorities had served notice that sterner measures were contemplated unless Nazi agents were promptly speeded on their way.

The Shah could not plead ignorance of the Allies' determination to clear out Hitler's "tourists" from the capital by any means the circumstances might appear to warrant. The ruler's voluntary removal from the throne, leaving the crown for his 21-year-old European-educated son, may likewise be followed by revelations that the fond parent had played the game of the common enemy more actively than the general public knows. In any event, Great Britain and Russia are not in a position to take chances at this stage of the conflict, and their plan to move into Tehran and assume control from the capital suggests they intend to be safe rather than sorry. The public nevertheless awaits clarification of the incidents leading to this decision, not only because of Islamic reaction, but also for the reason that it means a reversal of the promise to leave the conduct of internal affairs to the Iranian government.

Telling Argument

HOW DOES "FOOD AS A FIFTH COLUMN" sound as a rallying cry for those people in Nazi-tyrannized Europe who are waiting as patiently as they can for the final destruction of Hitler and his gang? To United States Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard it has a ring in it that might eventually be converted into a psychological argument worth the equivalent of a dozen field armies. This hard-working farmer member of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet is indulging in no day dreams; he is a realist who has been close to the ground from the days of his infancy. When folk of his type think and speak it is invariably to good purpose.

Mr. Wickard was down in Salt Lake City yesterday talking to the people of that important and historic Utah community about the abundance of American food, how it is the determination of the government at Washington to see that Britain's larders are amply replenished from time to time; it was then he asked his auditors what they thought would be the effect on the people "across the Channel," in France, or in Holland and in Belgium, as they contrasted their own plight with that of Britons getting enough to eat. He thought the effect would be impressive and, calling food "our Fifth Column," he added: "When the conquered people see what America is supplying the British in the way of food, and know that there's more where the British supplies come from, I think these people may do more than hope for the victory for the democracies; they'll work and fight for it."

Hunger is playing an important part of the visible and invisible enmity with which Hitler's armies of occupation are finding it more difficult to deal from day to day. What the coming winter will produce is on the lap of the gods. In France, Holland, Belgium and Norway, German soldiers are considered fair game; we hear only of the few whose "removal" is made the excuse for mass arrests. As more of the enslaved peoples prepare to tighten their belts still further—a condition they cannot escape—lack of nourishment will add to the problems confronting the little Fuehrers who have accepted the totalitarian pattern for a New World Order. "Food as a Fifth Column" is not to be lightly disregarded.

Oak Bay's Wise Choice

NEVER HAVE THE PEOPLE OF THIS country needed a more intimate understanding of the fundamental principles of democratic thought and action than they do today. This is only one of the many reasons why Canadians in this part of Canada will experience a sense of gratification in the knowledge that men and women of intellect and vision are signifying their willingness to serve the public in government. The nomination of Professor E. S. Farr by the Liberals of Oak Bay introduces to the provincial political arena a personality with which a large section of the people of British Columbia already is familiar. As an economist, a humanitarian, a keen student of the Canadian scene in all its varying moods, he is admirably equipped with outstanding qualifications for the position he has been persuaded to seek. And in the postwar world men of his sterling character and breadth of understanding will assuredly be at a premium. Liberalism in Oak Bay, therefore, will find in Professor Farr no sounder or more practical exponent of the democratic philosophy which is now being challenged by totalitarianism. His political faith makes no concessions to compromise or appeasement.

Notes

People are worrying over what the world is coming to. We hope it's really coming to.

A thought in passing for all the things that used to seem important—like the stock market.

It appears the untutored Russians hide in the treetops and shoot at the Nazi as he passes, a flagrant violation of Adolf's rules for the conduct of an enemy.

The BBC recently just could not bring itself to add the Red Internationale to the National Anthem of all its Allies regularly played on Sundays. The Winnipeg Tribune has discovered in its exchanges that Lord Beaverbrook's London Standard suggested that instead the BBC might play for the Russians that old-time favorite, "You Made Me Love You; Didn't Want to Do It."

NO PROFITTEERING

From Globe and Mail

The notion that handsome profits are being made by manufacturers who are producing war supplies and equipment for the government of Canada is quite erroneous. It would be completely dispelled if the public could have heard a speech made the other evening by Mr. R. S. McLaughlin, head of General Motors, to a party of three score newspaper publishers and editors who are now touring eastern Canada to obtain first hand information about the nation's war effort.

Canadian automotive manufacturers are producing thousands of motorized military vehicles at prices which allow for a profit of only 5 per cent, of which the federal exchequer takes more than half in taxation. Mr. McLaughlin has been in the manufacturing business for half a century, and knows whereof he speaks. It is therefore reassuring to hear from his lips the statement that the contracts made by the Department of Munitions and Supply are carefully drawn on a basis which permits a very small margin of profit. Since the government is spending between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 this year, the taxpayers will be glad to know contracts are being so closely supervised that the brand of profiteering which existed during the Great War is not now possible. Not only so, but all manufacturers are subject to a profits tax ranging up to 75 per cent, which diverts to the federal treasury the cream of their gains.

APOLOGY

THAT SAVAGE ATTACK which I wrote the other day on hunters who slaughter the game birds of the forest had a curious sequel. My friend the Hunter, instead of resenting it, presented me with four magnificent grouse, and I have just eaten them. Which shows you a profound fact about human nature. Any of us can deplore the shooting of game, but who are strong enough in consistency to refuse to eat it? We all can deplore the killing of innocent cattle, but who will decline a fine T-bone steak? We all rage against the destruction of our forests by the timber interests but does not British Columbia, do not you and I and everyone in these parts live on this destruction, which is our main industry? We all complain against the injustices of society but every one of us, above the level of the most unfortunate, fattens and prospers at the expense of his fellows. There is no consistency in us. So I ate the four grouse, with minor help from the Hunter and his wife, and I enjoyed them. But still I shall never forgive him for shooting them. They might be flying happily through the woods at this moment if they were not somewhere else much closer to this type-writer.

PHILOSOPHER

THUS, FILLED WITH GROUSE and in a gentle mood, I turned just now to the philosophers for company and hit (surely not by accident but by guidance of some sort) on some passages in Plato which undoubtedly were written to guide the voters of British Columbia in the election of 1941. "As to the people," says he, "they have no understanding, and only repeat what their rulers are pleased to tell them." It is amazing, says Plato, that whereas we would not think of employing an unskilled shoemaker, we assume that everyone who knows how to get votes knows how to run a nation. If we need a doctor we do not call in the handsomest doctor, nor the one who talks most pleasantly. We get the one with the best training. But in politics, even in ancient Athens, where democracy was invented and where it perished of its own follies, the mob called in the best talker and the best looker when it wanted a public official.

We still do it often today in this highly enlightened age, when democracy is fighting for its life. Most of the candidates elected in British Columbia this year will be chosen because people liked them, not because they had any particular qualification for the job. The best asset a party can have is a handsome candidate, with sex appeal and not enough to question the party's platform or record.

Again Plato: "Any ordinary city is in fact two cities, one the city of the poor, the other of the rich, each at war with the other; and in either division there are smaller ones." Words as true now as when written over 2,000 years ago by a fellow who wore a nightshirt all day. Again, as if he foresaw Hitler himself, Plato says that the crowd so love flattery and is so hungry for "honey" that at last the most unscrupulous flatterer, calling himself the protector of the people, rises to supreme power.

And as you read further these old books which you have read long ago and forgotten you are immensely refreshed at the realization that there is no new problem in the world and no new idea whatever, and every argument, manœuvre, stratagem, flattery and plea used in the provincial election of this year has been used by some fellow in every age of civilization. When you go to the polls, remember Plato.

LEGS

FOR THE PHILOSOPHIC MIND the recent accident to the ankle of Miss Marlene Dietrich is also important. Instantly when the celebrated leg of this star was fractured, the publicity men of Hollywood went into action, resolved to profit by this accident. In innumerable newspapers and magazines the broken ankle was used as an excuse to repeat over and over again, endlessly and with innumerable subtle variations and clever wisecracks, the legend that Miss Dietrich has the most beautiful legs in the world.

This shows you how, with sufficient publicity and good talent in the press agent's office, any legend can be invented and spread throughout the world. It is simply a matter of business. They set out long ago to sell Miss Dietrich's legs to the mass mind and they have succeeded in the greatest merchandising campaign in history. It has made millions for Hollywood and a reasonable wage for the owner of the legs as well. Today millions of people who hardly know the name of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer and certainly do not know the name of the Emperor of Japan or the Prime Minister of Canada know all about the Dietrich legs.

This is a philosophical problem of first magnitude, not easily solved. For how does a world which is more interested in these legs than in its government ever expect to have government as satisfactory as the legs? But the philosophical problem is deeper than this, for the plain fact is that the Dietrich legs, as shown on the screen, are nothing to write home about and never worth writing to the newspaper about, and far inferior to half the legs on the streets of Victoria. Yet they can be exploited by mere publicity into a seventh wonder of the world. The people don't believe the legs and would never notice them if they did not wear Neon signs. They believe the written word. The pen remains mightier than the eye, and the philosopher remains baffled, as always.

DOUBLE PITY

FINLAND DRAWS LINE

THE OFFICIAL statement by the Finnish Foreign Minister that Finland is only an "accidental ally" of Germany, and is not eager to continue fighting beyond the recovery of her lost territory, constitutes a major triumph for Allied diplomacy. Coupled with the news that Finns have definitely withdrawn from the fighting around Leningrad, it tells its own story.

The winter is closing in in Russia, and Hitler's accidental ally—both on the European and Asiatic borders—show every sign of walking out.

This news from Helsinki writes the happiest chapter in the recent story. It is no secret that both Britain and the United States, as well as the Soviet, have been pulling every possible wire to detach Finland from the Nazi orbit. In his recent speeches Mr. Churchill has been scrupulously careful—not to list Finland with Germany and Italy and the others as an allied enemy in this war. Nevertheless Britain did stage one raid on Finnish territory—at Petsamo—no doubt as a sharp reminder to Finland that unless she clarified her position she would certainly be forced to fight all forces opposing Hitler's armies on or near the Russian front.

25 YEARS LATE

The arrival in Russia of a fighter wing of the Royal Air Force recalls the rather curious history of the last war. It was the failure of the Allies to penetrate the Dardanelles, or to open a line of effective communication elsewhere, which was a chief factor in the Russian collapse in 1917 on the eastern front—and the revolution of that year.

Mr. Churchill has finally done what Lord Kitchener set out to do when he started his ill-fated journey to Russia. Those who are fond of abstract speculation may get some fun pondering the probable difference there would be in the world today had Russia

From The Times, London.

It is the old familiar problem of the best method of co-ordinating the knowledge and the judgment of a scattered Commonwealth of Nations.

So far as the exchange of full information is concerned, Mr. Mackenzie King is undoubtedly right—and South Africans agree with him—in thinking that the present system of communication between the British government and those of the Dominions is amply sufficient. As he told us on his arrival in London, he himself, as Prime Minister of Canada, corresponds direct with the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom in Downing Street; the Dominions Office in Whitehall corresponds simultaneously with the Canadian Department of External Affairs; finally the High Commissioners on both sides, even if they do not regularly correspond with one another, are at hand to impart the news and the views of their respective countries. There is assuredly no lack here of channels of communication. The risk, it might be thought, must be that their very multiplicity would lead to overlapping and confusion if they were not employed with complete frankness and good will. But the change of information is not everything, and no system of communication at long range can ever quite dispense with personal intercourse when the occasion requires it. That has been recognized over and over again even in the present war—in Mr. Menzies' invaluable sojourn in England at a time when his countrymen were deeply engaged in Greece and Crete; in Gen. Smuts' repeated journeys from Cape town to Cairo; in the welcome arrival of Mr. Fraser, and now of Mr. King himself, on these shores; above all in the historic conversations at sea between Mr. Churchill and President Roosevelt.

The question is how these personal consultations can be made most convenient and most effective. There is no serious support nowadays for the establishment of a permanent Imperial War Cabinet of the kind which emerged in the last war, when all the Dominion Prime Ministers, with other representatives of the Empire, were assembled in London together for a period. It would seldom be convenient for all of them to be absent from their headquarters at the same time. Their numbers would be too large for any effective direction of the war. Nor is the project of sending some alternate to the Prime Minister—a minor member of his cabinet, for instance, as Minister Plenipotentiary—likely to prove acceptable to either side in practice. And least of all is it conceivable that the other Dominions would consent to regard themselves as represented collectively by a single minister drawn from any one of them. These ideas, thrown up in the course of the Australian debates, seem to ignore the existence of a Secretary of State for the Dominions and of the High Commissioners in London (an unusually strong team at the present time), who between them fulfil all the normal functions required. If there should be need and opportunity, as there well may be, for convening an Imperial Conference, that would be another matter.

Meanwhile the best solution of the problem—and the one which accords with the British tradition of evolution—is surely to perpetuate and extend the practice, which has grown up almost haphazard, by which any Dominion Prime Minister sits ex officio in the War Cabinet in London whenever his duties at home give him time to attend. It is important that they should be members by right and not merely by invitation ad hoc; otherwise they are inevitably relegated to a secondary position and their opinion (which is probably vital if they have crossed the ocean to express it) loses much of its weight. It is important also, for the sake of those whose Prime Ministers are not available, that the Secretary of State for the Dominions, who is their spokesman in the British government, should at all times be a member of the War Cabinet. It is not enough that he should attend it on occasions when the special interests of the Dominions are under discussion. No member of the government should be more highly regarded. None should stand nearer to the Prime Minister.

These two suggestions—that the Dominion Prime Ministers should be recognized as regular members of the War Cabinet, and that the position of the Secretary of State should be fortified—do not represent any drastic changes. They are in the direct line of succession to those which have come about already. But they should go far to meet the very reasonable desire of the Dominions for a closer participation in the conduct of the war, and give new strength, at times when it is needed most, to the government in this country.

Liberals Choose College Man

Prof. E. S. Farr Stands in Oak Bay

Everett Stanley Farr, professor of economics and assistant principal of Victoria College, was unanimously chosen by Oak Bay Liberal Association last night as Oak Bay candidate in the coming provincial general election.

Prof. Farr, who also holds a degree in law and has lectured in both Alberta and British Columbia on economic and historical subjects, was given an ovation by the delegates who attended the nominating convention in gratulated on having such an outstanding candidate in its first election.

Prof. Farr was nominated by John V. Johnson, who spoke not only of his accomplishments in the educational field, but of his great ability in sports in his younger days. He was seconded by Carleton Stocker.

"I'm confident Prof. Farr will win the seat," said Mr. Hart, who was the first to congratulate the candidate.

The finance minister said the government did not intend to wage a hard campaign, because it realized that the only question of moment now was winning the war. An election was necessary because the constitutional term expired next June, and the government was simply offering its record to the people.

ONE POLICY

Mr. Hart said at the outset of the war he had gone to Premier Mackenzie King and told him B.C. would bury all its differences on Dominion-provincial affairs for the duration, and had asked what B.C. could do to help.

"That has been our policy ever since," he declared, and cited relinquishment of the income and corporation tax field as one of the gestures.

Mr. Hart, who was introduced as the first Liberal to gain a majority in the once Tory stronghold of Oak Bay, was followed by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., who had a similar honor in the federal field.

Mr. Mayhew said there were few homes in Victoria or Oak Bay where Prof. Farr's influence had not been felt through his teaching of the young people. It was fortunate for the country that he now was willing to try and put his theories into practice in the field of public service.

SHOULD WIN

"You have a good organization, an excellent candidate and a government with a record well worth while," he said. "You should win the seat."

Mr. Mayhew turned his remarks then to the subject of re-consecration week. He said in two years Canada had built an army, navy and air force, a huge industrial machine for making the tools of war, and raised huge financial resources—all combining to make an effort no one would have ventured to predict when war broke out.

"There is everything to be proud of in what we have accomplished," he said. "But we have had dark days, and there may be darker days ahead. We are not afraid of the outcome. Some of us think we are doing our utmost now, but I think all of us can do a bit more. Let us all concentrate on that. And perhaps we can say our prayers a little more often, and a little more earnestly."

MORE PROVINCIAL HELP

Mr. Mayhew said he didn't think the provincial government was leaving resolutions to the individual, and he was sure that as a government it would canvass the situation to see what more it could do to help the Dominion.

The federal member made an appeal to citizens to entertain members of the services who are stationed here away from home, for, he said, they were the ones who faced the supreme sacrifice. People should take them to their homes and give them every encouragement.

ENTERTAIN R.A.F. MEN

W. T. Straith, Victoria member in the last House, coupled his remarks with Mr. Mayhew in this regard, and mentioned especially the Royal Air Force men who are stationed here.

"When I think what the people of England did for our boys in the last war I feel we owe these lads from England a real debt," he said.

Mr. Straith said he felt the coming campaign no place for acrimonious debate, but firmly believed an election was necessary as a preservation of the rights of free parliament, which Europeans today could not have.

"I hope the public will not show the so-called apathy about this election when polling day comes," he said.

Offering congratulations to the candidate, Mr. Straith said Prof. Farr's economic training would be most invaluable in the post-war planning and he would be an intensely useful member of the House.

CANDIDATE'S ACCEPTANCE

Prof. Farr, in his acceptance speech, said the re-consecration theme gave a text to those engaged in the war and he appreciated it as a time for re-education of all to the cause of democracy and good government.

He regarded his nomination as a high honor because of the excellent standing of Oak Bay as one of the best administered municipalities in Canada and a district of excellent community spirit.

The candidate said that after 30 years instructing youth of the country he felt he might make some worthwhile contribution to public affairs. Young men standing in the battle line against aggression might wish to look to a former teacher when they came to re-establish themselves. Assistance must be given so that they could rejoin society with a minimum of frustration and disappointment.

SANE PROGRESS

Prof. Farr said he was also a firm believer in the fact that while the country must always aim at progress, it should retain tradition and precedent.

Originality Keynote of All-Canadian Style Revue

Something different! This leit-motif ran all through the commentaries made by the designer, Charles Hayden, at the preview staged by the Fashion Creators of Canada last night at the Hudson's Bay Company.

And originality was the keynote of the evening gowns, afternoon frocks, evening wraps and suits paraded by the models before an audience of several hundred women. Originality of design, of color combinations, of trimming accents and of materials lifted the creations out of the ordinary and emphasized the fact that every one of the models made and designed by Fashion Creators of Canada is exclusive.

"THE SPIRIT OF GREECE"

The "glory that was Greece" was recalled in many of the evening gowns. One model, aptly called "The Spirit of Greece," captured the glowing tones of autumn in its ombre chiffon, shading from pale gold to deepest amber and from copper to autumn brown, with flowing draperies, jewel-toned girdle, complemented by a veil-like drape of chiffon caught to the head.

In striving after a distinctly Canadian individuality in the models, Mrs. Martha, Stephen Kent, Diana Thorne, Susan Wayne and Charles Hayden, designers for Fashion Creators, have found inspiration in the glowing tints of the Canadian autumn. Many of the evening gowns were in the warm browns and vivid golds, interpreted in organza, silk net and other lovely fabrics. In warm earth brown with a touch of russet, too, were several fitted evening coats fashioned in the new velvet velour, while another striking evening coat of green and gold made elicited much admiration.

SPLASH OF COLOR

The use of solid color relieved by a vivid splash is another striking note in the creations from this Canadian salon. The depressing effect of black in wartime finds relief in such color accents as bands of embroidery or trimming, rows of scarlet beading or, as in one afternoon frock of black wool, in the use of scarlet chiffon pocket effects. Enormous buttons of carved and painted wood, simulating huge butterflies, were noted on several tailored frocks.

This carved wooden jewelry is complemented by the umbrellas with unusual handle designs of the carved and painted wood, one being a replica of a dog's head, while another suggested a spray of delphinium in the three shades of blue. These are the work of a young Canadian artist, it was noted by the commentator.

HAND-PAINTED GOWNS

But it was in the evening and dinner gowns that the original note was subtly emphasized. Hand painting is employed with unusual effect, one gown of bright green taffeta having enormous painted butterflies on the full skirt, while another black taffeta dual-purpose gown, aptly named "Rose of Old England," was painted with roses, each flower outlined with gold braid.

A black taffeta evening gown was dotted with gold coinspots and accented with gold lame bows at the shoulders and low neckline, while a bygone day was recalled by the crinoline gown, and the royal blue taffeta hostess gown whose skirt fullness was gathered into a low bow at the back. An effect of glittering black beads was achieved on another black satin evening creation by the use of "Cellophane" fringe. The patriotic motif was sounded in a dinner gown of red, white and blue chiffon, cut on the ever-popular shirtwaist lines, and in the V-for-victory afternoon frock trimmed with red, white and blue taffeta.

FOR HOME WEDDING

Concluding the revue was a demure bride whose gown, designed by Mr. Hayden for the quiet little home ceremony demanded by the exigencies of war, was of ivory satin allied with cobwebby ecru lace, a little bolero of the lace insuring its subsequent usefulness as a dinner or hostess gown.

Against a background of flowers and ferns, the mannequins paraded down a long runway to the strains of music supplied by an orchestra. Modeling the gowns and suits last night were Mrs. Bruce Bracken, Miss C. Newson, Mrs. J. E. Moore, Mrs. M. Cummings, Miss M. L. Crossley, Miss P. Wright, Miss C. R. Greve and Miss D. Harper. The models are being shown again today and tomorrow morning.

The Junior Catholic Women's League held a picnic at the Anchorage, Brentwood, Sunday, at the same time resuming their meetings for the fall. Mr. A. G. Baker and Rev. Father Tunner, and Rev. Father Dobson, chaplain of the R.C.A.F., were special guests. Musical numbers were rendered by Mr. Pat O'Brien of the original Dumbells, Alan Fraser, Mrs. Horace O'Connor and Miss Maxine High. Mrs. Nelda Hilditch read the teacups.

Pro Patria W.A. will hold a card party in the V.W.I. Rooms, Tuesday at 8. Whist and bingo will be played.

LUND-NORTHCOTT

A ceremony of interest to Victorians took place September 8 at Minnedosa, Manitoba, when Eileen Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Northcott, Minnedosa, became the bride of Flying Officer Peere C. Lund, M.D., R.C.A.F., Toronto and Victoria, eldest son of Mr. Johannus Lund of Cold Lake, Alta., and the late Mrs. Lund. The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly costumed in a periwinkle blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses and sweet peas and white heather. She carried a bouquet of gladioli, dahlias and Virginia creeper decorated the church, Miss Betty Northcott, the bride's sister, playing the bridal music on the organ. Miss Ivy Northcott, another sister of the bride, was the attendant, choosing a grey wool suit with scarlet accessories for the occasion, and a corsage of scarlet gladioli. Acting as groomsmen was Mr. Alfred Stephens.

A buffet supper followed the ceremony, the bride's mother receiving in a violet crepe ensemble with black accessories, accented by a corsage of white gladioli. A three-tiered cake centred the bridal table, on either side of which were tall pink tapers.

For her honeymoon trip to Riding Mountain National Park the bride donned a navy wool coat over her wedding ensemble. On their return, Flying Officer Lund and his wife will make their home in Brandon, where the groom is stationed. Before joining the air force, Flying Officer Lund was on the staff of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, having graduated in medicine from the University of Alberta. The bride was also on the staff of the Royal Jubilee Hospital and of the Provincial Hospital for Mental Diseases in Brandon.

Hobbs, R.C.M.P., and Mrs. Hobbs of Happy Valley.

Masses of autumn flowers and ferns were used for decorating by Mrs. J. Blenkinsopp and her assistants. Mrs. A. Sims played the wedding music.

The bride wore a frock of heaven blue chiffon, trimmed with touches of pink, her hat being a halo model in heaven blue. Her corsage was of autumn flowers in pastel shades. She was given in marriage by her cousin, Leading Signaller G. P. Cole, and attended by the groom's sister, Miss Nora Hobbs, in a frock of rose net over taffeta.

Girl Guide Notes

Guides and Brownies are reminded that this is Aluminum Week and special efforts are being made to collect this most necessary metal for airplane manufacture. Guides who may already have aluminum in their salvage collections, should sort it out and either take it to the collection at their school on Friday, or put it on the doorstep ready for the house-to-house collection on Saturday.

Every Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock a small band of Guides and Rangers is meeting at the headquarters of British Bundles, where they sew on buttons, darn and do other simple mending of clothing for the bombed-out people in Britain. The amount of work waiting to be done is enormous, the room is large but the band of workers is small; the room would hold many more, and volunteers to join this group are urgently invited. For further information phone Miss Leighton.

Christ Church Cathedral Branch, A.Y.P.A., held a business meeting recently, when members were placed in various groups for the coming year. At the next general meeting September 17 the branch will welcome an interesting speaker.

Give Children One Egg Every Day

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
An egg a day will help keep the children's doctor away. And adults should have at least four eggs a week; more if possible.

The following buying and storing hints will help you get your money's worth:

There are four grades of eggs—"Fancy," "Grade A," "Grade B," "Grade C." Fancy and Grade A eggs are those of the highest quality in respect to freshness, firmness, color and odor.

Grade B eggs are good edible eggs, especially for cooking. Grade C is, of course, the lowest grade, but still edible.

An egg kept in a dealer's window with the sun beating down on it will be less fresh in 24 hours than a much older egg that is stored in a cool place.

Many women do not realize that the color of the shell has no bearing whatsoever on either the quality or food value. The condition of the shell, on the other hand, does.

Immediately after bringing your eggs home, put them in the refrigerator—it is not necessary to place in the coldest spot. Keep them as far as possible from highly scented foods, as the shell is porous and easily absorbs odors. Do not wash eggs because water will remove the "bloom" that forms a natural seal for the pores of the shell.

Here are two inexpensive luncheon recipes using eggs. They make perfect hot main dishes for children's meals:

Eggs Goldenrod

(Serves 4.)

Three tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk or 1 cup evaporated milk and 1 cup water, salt, paprika, 4 hard-cooked eggs, 4 slices buttered toast.

Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk. Season with salt and paprika. Separate the yolks and whites of the eggs. Chop the whites, add them to the sauce, and pour over the toast. Sprinkle with the egg yolks which have been rubbed through a sieve. Scrambled Eggs and Noodles (Serves 4.)

Two eggs, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, ½ teaspoon grated onion if desired, ½ cup milk, 1 cup cooked noodles, 1 tablespoon bacon fat.

Beat eggs slightly, add seasonings, milk and noodles, and turn into skillet containing melted bacon fat or butter. Stir constantly over low flame until mixture thickens. Serve at once.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast—Sliced oranges, fried cornmeal mush, syrup, coffee, milk.

Luncheon—Eggs goldenrod, mixed greens salad, frosted cup cakes, tea, milk.

Dinner—Liver and bacon, boiled potatoes, baked stuffed tomatoes, apple turnovers, coffee, milk.

Special Film for Hard-of-Hearing

The fall season will open for the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing Wednesday evening when a talking picture, "Life Begins Again," will be shown. This picture, which will be audible to the hard-of-hearing by means of the club group-hearing-aid, follows the progress of a school child who, having lost her hearing in infancy, is treated at the very start of her handicap, with the most modern scientific methods and helped to lead a normal life.

Through the courtesy of Dr. J. S. Cull, who is in charge of the Government Health Department, the sound film will be shown at the clubrooms, 1416 Douglas Street, at 8 p.m. sharp. All who wish to view the picture are requested to be on time. This will be the first time that this motion picture, which deals with hard-of-hearing problems, has been shown in Victoria.

Africa's Middle Ages

PRETORIA (CP)—While digging a trench for telephone wires, workmen unearthed "a Middle Stone Age factory site about three feet below the surface."

MARRIED 50 YEARS ago today, Rev. T. H. and Mrs. Laundry of 1290 Beach Drive are today receiving congratulations upon their golden wedding anniversary. There will be no reception, but a family reunion will be held this evening. They have one daughter, Mrs. Robin M. Forbes, West Vancouver; three sons in Victoria, Cecil, Edward and Arthur, and one son, Herbert, in Owen Sound, Ont. There are nine grandchildren. The eldest son, Capt. E. Lynn Laundry, died as a result of service in the last war.

GOLDEN WEDDING BELLS

In diverse tones and places
O'er land, o'er air and sea,
Blithe wedding bells are ringing
In ceaseless melody.
Though battles wage incessant,
Around the whole wide world,
Swift arrows, whose but Cupid's?
Day after day are hurled.
The Voice that breathed o'er Eden,
Still breathes its sweet refrain;
But sweeter far when echoes
In two fond hearts remain.
When after half a century
Of wedlock tried and true,
Life still retains its roses,
Despite its share of rue,
How swift the time in passing,
Though burdened oft with care;
But what were that at sunset
With blessings and to spare?
With fealty whose outposts
Hold many a faithful friend,
And grace to serve a Master
Whose Kingdom knows no end!
Anon, kind thoughts and tender,
Go winging on their way
In token of remembrance—
Your golden wedding day!
And may the hours be freighted
With memories, none so sweet,
While flowers as fresh and fragrant
Bloom fadeless round your feet!

—MARY H. RATHOM.

SELDOM DOES one find the amount of enthusiasm in a sports circuit that exists in the newly-organized Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association. Attending Sunday's meeting in Nanaimo, we were surprised to find such a spirit of good sportsmanship and co-operation as was displayed between the representatives of the clubs from the four cities.

All the clubs seem cognizant of the fact the coming season presents the one grand opportunity for amateur hockey to be put over in British Columbia. The coast pro league has folded up and it will be up to the amateurs to fill the gap. And they intend to take over and do everything to make the brand of hockey appetizing to John Public.

Victoria and Vancouver are the new clubs in the circuit, and the league is going to see to it these teams get every possible bit of co-operation in building up squads capable of holding their own with Nanaimo and New Westminster. Everybody wants a well-balanced league, even if it means the juggling of players to bolster the weak and weaken the strong. From what we could learn there will be no shortage of first-class material, so you hockey fans can look forward to a good calibre of hockey.

We had a visit the other day from L.A.C. William Green, one of the members of the Royal Air Force stationed at Patricia Bay. He informed us the British air men have organized badminton, cricket, tennis, soccer, rugby and swimming teams and are particularly anxious to get competition from local aggregations. With a large selection to choose from, the R.A.F. will be able to field some strong sides and feel they can provide first-class competition. Any team interested in arranging games or competitions should contact Green at Patricia Bay.

Connie Mack doesn't care whether the Brooklyn Dodgers or the St. Louis Cardinals win the National League pennant—he picks the New York Yankees to win the world series.

What's more, the alert 78-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics thinks the series will last only five or six games.

Baseball's "Grand Old Gentleman," who was a veteran before most of the present day ball players were born, added to his fame when he went out on a limb and predicted the collapse of the Yanks in 1940 after they had won four straight pennants and world series.

The Yanks walloped Cincinnati four straight in the series of 1939, but it was in that very series, Connie said, that he "saw something" that indicated the Yanks' downfall.

During the off season last winter Mack asserted the Yanks were the team to beat for the 1941 pennant. Hence his predictions carry more than added weight.

"Yes, I think it will be the Yankees," he declared. "Who can beat them? They have such power and pitching. The possible loss of Keller (Charley Keller, outfielder, who is expected to be out with a leg injury) will not be a blow as it might to other teams. The Yanks have too much."

Grizzlies Tie Series

Whip Riders 7 to 6

VANCOUVER (CP)—The word was out today that Vancouver Grizzlies will be a definite threat in the Western Interprovincial Football Union in their first year, after the big scarlet and gold squad marked up an even break in a two-game series with the Roughriders of Regina and prepared to head for the football strongholds of the prairie.

Beaten 4 to 1 by Riders on a rain-sodden field in their debut here Saturday, the new Vancouver grid machine last night uncorked enough scoring drive to take a 7 to 6 victory—again in a downpour.

Grizzlies leave for Regina's camp tomorrow for a game there Saturday. The circuit swing is important, for they'll also meet the touted Blue Bombers of Winnipeg, western football kings for the past five years.

Stan Leacock, 200-pound end, and Charlie Millman, 190-pound lineman, were credited with Vancouver's first points last night, chopping down Norman Geller behind the Regina goal line for a safety in the second quarter. The Grizzlies followed this with an unconverted touchdown in the third quarter after Regina was penalized 3½ yards for an offside. Jack Horn plunged straight through the line for the major score.

But it was left to big Ray Powell, Regina's 23-year-old full-back to pull the most spectacular play of the night. After two line bucks failed to make yardage, Powell took the ball, faked a pass to Geller and then raced 35 yards around left end for a touchdown which big "Toad" Springstein failed to convert in the final quarter.

This combined with Regina's other point—a deadline kick by Ken Charlton in the second quarter—brought the Riders to within a point of tying the game, but the Grizzly defence proved too strong for their fourth-quarter drive.

Addison Scores Track Victory

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—Placing first in all but four events, athletes of the 1st Canadian Division scored more points than five other teams combined to win the Canadian overseas forces track and field championship.

The 1st Division piled up 55 points of a possible 99. Base units took second place with 16, followed by 2nd Division with 10, R.C.A.F. with nine, C.M.H.Q. with five and Corps with four.

First Division teams also won the two relay races, 440 yards and one mile, and an Alberta Regiment team from the same division won the tug-of-war. These events did not count in the team score.

Sgt. J. H. (Joe) Addison of Victoria, who competed for Canada in the last British Empire Games, brought C.M.H.Q. its points with a victory in the 440 yards. Addison is in the Canadian Forestry Corps.

LAWN BOWLING

Owing to rain on Saturday, the war charity games on the Beacon Hill Park greens were postponed until tomorrow, when they will be played at 2 and 7. At the game held at Beacon Hill on Saturday evening, a fair amount was realized, but owing to weather conditions the turnout was not as large as had been hoped for. For these reasons the games will be resumed on Wednesday. In addition to the games a raffle and other attractions will be held. As these will be the last of the games in the war charity series in Greater Victoria for this season it is to be hoped that they will be well patronized.

A meeting of the financial five-pin league will be held tomorrow night at 8 at Gibson's (Olympic) Bowladrome, 914 Yates Street. All last year's players and any others wishing to join this league are asked to attend.

Lady Riders Have Day at Willows

Fair sex came into their own at the Willows racetrack yesterday when the seven horses in the fourth race had lady riders up. The novelty event proved popular with the fans as evidenced by the increased interest at the paddock, scales and finish. The women provided the customers with a smart race and the time of the winner, 1:17.25, stood up right with the clocking of the regular jockeys. Top, left, shows the seven lady riders before the "riders

Storm Follows Haling Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Middleweight champion Billy Soose prepared to head east today, his crown slightly tarnished after one of the most vicious fights with the most unsatisfactory ending visited in Los Angeles in years.

Handsome Billy's 12-round non-title fight with veteran Cefterino Garcia was stopped midway in the eighth round and called a draw because Soose's left eye was badly cut.

From then on it was intense. A near riot almost ensued. Referee Abe Roth was almost mobbed as he left the ring, and today the State Athletic Commission promised further action after dissenting with the referee's decision.

Roth said Garcia butted Soose in the seventh round, slitting the eye lid, and then hammered it wider open in the eighth. Soose, questioned, said he was butted in the sixth, though no blood appeared and the commissioners, sitting at ringside, said they saw no butt in any round.

Dave Kerr Retires

TORONTO (CP)—Dave Kerr, goaltender for New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, last night announced his retirement from professional hockey to accept an offer to continue a year-round position with a prominent Toronto beverage concern.

The 31-year-old Toronto-born goaltender said he had advised manager Lester Patrick in New York of his decision earlier in the day. Rumors had been current for several weeks that Kerr planned to retire.

Women Riders Popular

Mrs. Hartley Wins

Colwood Park Association introduced lady riders at Willows track yesterday and the fans loved it.

Never have so many of the punters gone down to the paddock to see the horses saddled and mounted.

The lady riders were cheered on parade and, after putting up a sterling contest on the track, got a great hand as they weighed in at the finish.

Outside of the feature handicap the best field of the day was under the guidance of the fair sex. It was rather fitting that Mrs. Joyce M. Hartley, owner and trainer in her own right, greeted the judges from the winner's circle. She rode McLeod Breeze, her own horse, and took the lead right from the barrier.

But Miss Margaret Hogg of Victoria gave her keen competition aboard H. J. Fisher's Dr. Pook and a photograph was needed to decide the winner at the end of a ding-dong stretch duel. Miss Dorise Preece took the show position with R. F. Field's Dodd.

The other lady riders were Mrs. D. B. Carley on Naperton, Miss Ann Biggar on Silver Fur, Miss June Lang on John B., and Mrs. Bill Randall on Eagle Crest.

The event was made complete when Mrs. Jack Short, wife of the track announcer, called the race from the public address box atop the grandstand. Mrs. Short was a little slower calling the ponies than her machine-gun husband, but she did not make a wrong call.

The old favorite of Victoria fans, Some Turley, won the speed handicap over the five and a half furlong route, although she was pressed by S. Krieger's Bucket Brigade.

Burrards Gain Lacrosse Final

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards will seek to defend the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League title they won last year when they meet Richmond Farmers Friday in this year's final for the right to enter the Mann Cup playdowns.

Last night Burrards turned back New Westminster Adanacs 12 to 10 to take a closely-fought semifinal series three games to one. As in previous games very little separated the teams. They were tied 6 to 6 at halftime and although Burrards went ahead in the next quarter the score was 10 to 10 in the final frame until Roy Cavallin fired two goals for the winning margin.

OAK BAY GOLF

F'st men's monthly competition at the Victoria Golf Club resulted in a victory for R. C. Field with a score of 80-17-63. R. L. Fort was runner-up with 76-11-63.

Uphold Ruling On Ice Players

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj. Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of National War Services, who is in charge of arrangements for calling men for compulsory military training, reiterated today the department's stand that divisional selection boards are autonomous bodies and their decisions are final.

Gen. LaFleche said as yet the department had received no representations from hockey players who, because of their liability to military training, have been denied permission to go to the United States to play there during the winter season.

Late last week the chairman of the Manitoba divisional board refused permission for six hockey players to go to the United States.

Today the associate deputy minister referred to a statement he issued last June 30 in which he said that "with all the good will in the world towards sport," departmental officials considered training for the defence of Canada more important than hockey."

Women's Golf Final

Mrs. R. Bramley and Mrs. C. E. Ley reached the final of the women's B class championship of the Uplands Golf Club and met in the final today.

In the first flight, Mildred Jones met Mrs. A. Herbert and Eileen Pendray opposed Mrs. J. R. Hiberson in the second flight final.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Guy Patrick, owner-manager of the Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, yesterday announced the sale of Owen (Lulu) Lennon to St. Louis of the American Hockey League for an undisclosed amount.

Indians Play Boxla Tonight

The Nanaimo Indians will be in town tonight to make a valiant effort to overcome a 16-goal lead gained by the James Bay lacrosse team in the first game of the island finals played up-island Saturday evening. Tonight's fixture will be the second of a two-game total-point series and is scheduled to start at 8.30.

It will mark the first appearance of the up-island braves in this city for two years and those in the know are expecting them to give a much better showing here.

Ted Menzies, Bay manager, announced last night that he had secured the services of three Alert stalwarts for the coming provincial playoffs. They are Carl Ovcharick, Andy Ovcharick and Norm Coates. Carl and Norm will be on the Bay roster tonight. The B.C. commission allows the addition of three extra players for the playoffs.

Presentation of most valuable player trophies will be made at halftime tonight to Carl Ovcharick, Eric Lea and Dick Chungranes.

Montreal Royals In Baseball Final

A preview of the looked-for world series between New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers begins tomorrow when Newark Bears and Montreal Royals clash in the first game of the International League's final playoff series.

Newark, the Yankees' No. 1 farm club, reached the finals Saturday, eliminating the fourth-place Rochester Red Wings after having won the International pennant for the sixth time in 10 years. The Royals, Brooklyn's principal agricultural project, didn't get there until last night when they outslugged the Buffalo Bisons, 11 to 8, to take the first playoff round, four games to three.

Y.M.C.A. Swimmers Accept Challenge

Registration at the "Y" for numerous activities by boys interested in the services offered have proved to be encouraging, Archie McKinnon, physical director, announced today. Over 60 registered on the first day of the junior school and junior employment groups. All classes this term are expected to be large.

The swimming team has been invited by the Vancouver Swimming Club to engage in another competition at the Crystal Pool in Vancouver, on September 27. Merm and mermen of the "Y" have accepted the challenge.

All members of the swimming group are asked to attend the regular workouts at the Crystal Garden, where tests to determine who will go to Vancouver will be held.

Win Bryant Trophy

In the final for the Dr. Bryant trophy at the Colwood Golf Club Frank Thomas and Art Williams defeated Art Balcom and Joe Lee. Dr. F. M. Bryant will present the prizes Sunday.

A. D. Macey won the monthly medal with a net 69. Bert Nex was runner-up, one stroke more.

Margin Over St. Louis Two Games

Surely but slowly, agonizing steps at a time, Brooklyn Dodgers are creeping toward the National League pennant.

They had a chance to pick up half a game yesterday—and they did—while St. Louis Cardinals were idle. But it took them 17 innings to do it and on that basis you can't say the Dodgers either are overwhelming their opposition or that their foes are giving them something for nothing.

The Dodgers are two games out in front today for two reasons—they have a fighting ball club that can, will and does battle to the final out; and the Cardinals have been beset by one of the worst sieges of injuries that ever befell a major league club.

For 16 innings the struggle was a scoreless pitching duel between Paul Derringer, ace of the Reds, and Johnny Allen, ex-American Leaguer who was supplanted in the 16th by chubby Hugh Casey.

For nine innings Allen held the Reds to one scratch single. The Dodgers put men on bases in seven out of nine frames without scoring. They kept right on challenging and in the 17th, when night was falling swiftly upon the contest, they finally managed to turn the affair inside out and win 5 to 1. Pete Reiser started it with his 17th home run.

RETURN HOME SOON

A two-game lead doesn't seem much in quantity, but the Dodgers have one more game in Cincinnati today and two in Pittsburgh, after which they will return to the east for nine appearances against the hapless Phillies and Boston Braves.

The game at Cincinnati, which left the Reds with a one-percentage point hold on third place, was the only action in the National League.

In the American League New York Yankees were outth 9 to 6, but made timely use of all their blows to beat Cleveland Indians 4 to 2 for Lefty Gomez' 15th triumph.

Boston Red Sox padded their second-place cushion further by belting Chicago White Sox 6 to 1, with Mickey Harris holding Chicago scoreless except for Dario Lodigiani's homer in the ninth.

Scrap Aluminum Wanted Saturday

Over 700 Boy Scouts will start early Saturday morning a house-to-house collection of aluminum. Each citizen is asked to put all spare aluminum, such as pots and pans, in front of the house in a sack where it can be easily seen from the street by a Cub or Scout.

The Boy Scouts will work from 10 central points in Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich. Trucks, donated by city firms, will help the Salvage Corps carry the aluminum to the salvage dump. Here it will be broken up and flattened by volunteer workers. The Salvage Corps saves $50 a ton by doing its own work. The aluminum is sent direct to the smelter and the money collected is used to help the bombed victims in Britain.

The Dominion government has asked the Boy Scouts to co-operate with the Red Cross in this drive, owing to a serious shortage at this time. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is also taking part.

The house-to-house collection on Saturday is under a committee of the following: Brig.-Gen. J. G. Austin, chairman; Mayor A. McGavin, Reeve L. Woodhouse of Oak Bay, Reeve W. L. Passmore of Saanich, Reeve Lockley of Esquimalt, Mrs. I. Jarvis, secretary; A. H. Pease, organizer; Commander J. S. Hincks, manager of the Salvage Depot; Capt. Freeman-King, Boy Scout leader; W. C. Mearns, president of the Junior Chamber, and G. P. Cameron.

The Dominion government has asked for immediate support and each citizen is urged to co-operate to the full. The Boy Scouts will return the scrap aluminum to the central points at 1034 Johnson Street, First Cathedral, Chester Street; St. Louis College, Pandora Avenue; St. Michael's School, Church of Our Lord, St. John's Church, St. Martin's Hall, Granite Street Hall, Marigold Hall, Oak Bay United Church and Cadboro Bay Hall. There are four central points in Sidney, one at Brentwood and one at Sooke.

The world-famous Spitfire plane uses 4,000 pounds of aluminum in engine and body. The heavy bombers use over 28 tons of this metal. The Dominion government therefore needs every piece that can be spared.

DISMISS APPEAL IN DRIVING CASE

The move of the Attorney-General of British Columbia to bring George D. McLean again before the court on a common danger driving charge laid at Alberni last December, failed today.

A Court of Appeal decision handed down by Mr. Justice McQuarrie dismissed the appeal by the Attorney-General's department. McLean was convicted and fined by a police magistrate at Alberni on the charge. He appealed to Judge Hanna in Nanaimo. In that court conviction was quashed, the court holding there was insufficient evidence to support a conviction.

The crown appealed through the Attorney-General on the grounds the wrong course was taken by the County Court judge. The case went to Mr. Justice Robertson in Supreme Court in the form of an application to have Judge Hanna show cause why he had declined to continue the case. Mr. Justice Robertson dismissed the application, and the appeal went to B.C.'s highest court.

Today's judgment put an end to further litigation on the question.

Following delivery of that judgment the court proceeded with the appeal of H. W. Gray and M. Andersen against Joseph Stubbert over the application of mechanics' liens on a Vancouver property converted into a multiple family house.

The exhibition in aid of Channel Island refugees at Scott's Camera Craft, 1015 Douglas Street, will remain open until Saturday. WAR IS STRUGGLE FOR MAN'S SOUL

"Reconsecration is a subtle suggestion that we have let up and must do it again. Life as we have it is sprinkled with the blood of man's sacrifice. It is a challenge not to undervalue our common heritage," said Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse when he spoke to the Kiwanis Club at noon today in observance of Reconsecration Week.

"We are here at the response of our Monarch," he said, "because our governors and rulers recognize that this war is a struggle for the soul of man, not merely for the domination of one political system."

He said that the call to reconsecration was a call for recognition of the something or someone at the back of life. Canadians had freedom and the rights of citizenship, he said, because others had gone to their death. Men ahead of their day were willing to travel through fields of slaughter for the benefit of unheeding masses.

The speaker climaxed his talk with the words: "In our consecration we should honor the contract between the dead, the living and the unborn. We are debtors. The things we enjoy were paid for by someone else. We can only honor them by linking ourselves to the cause for which they gave their lives."

Miss Peggy Walton contributed vocal selections.

Local Mill Aids Salvage Work

Canada's pulp and paper industry is playing a leading part in the salvage campaign which is being conducted throughout the country. Not only is it purchasing much salvaged material, proceeds of which go to the Red Cross, but it is also salvaging some of its own equipment, such as the heavy blankets which are used in the manufacture of paper. These blankets are washed and cleaned and sent to Britain for the use of the victims of the bombing raids.

Word has just been received from the eastern headquarters of the Pulp and Paper Association of the part being played by the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. of Victoria. In one shipment the company sent 266 woolen blankets to Ayer's Limited, woolen blanket manufacturers in Quebec, where they were washed, trimmed and shipped to Britain. Similar shipments are made every two months. These blankets are similar to ordinary domestic blankets, but are larger, being 20 feet by 300 feet in size. After these blankets are used for four weeks they become unsuitable for paper manufacturing. Special treatment makes them ideal heavy blankets.

All pulp and paper plants in Canada are co-operating in this job of blanketing the British bomb victims. Nearly 10,000 blankets have already been sent, and shipments will continue to be made each month.

WASTE PAPER AND RAGS

The bulk of the waste paper and rags that accumulates in the various towns and cities of British Columbia finds its way eventually to the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. The operation of this mill, the only one of its kind in British Columbia, assures a constant demand for these waste products, and helps to serve the interest of the country's wartime economy.

For many years, dealers in B.C. have been collecting waste paper and rags and selling them to the Victoria mill. Since the war, and the inception of the National Salvage Plan, started by Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of National War Services, schools, Boy Scout troops and other organizations also have been collecting these waste materials, and disposing of them directly, or indirectly, to the local mill.

Waste paper can be classified into groups, such as chip waste, newspapers, magazines and kraft. Each type has a very definite purpose in the manufacture of building papers, cardboard and boxboards.

Rags are also classified into different grades, and qualities, and are used in the local mill in the manufacture of basic roofing felts.

These products, containing waste materials collected from Victoria and British Columbia, are being shipped regularly to all parts of western Canada, New Zealand, China, South Africa and England.

Many organizations are actively collecting these materials in Victoria, Vancouver and the other cities, and selling directly, or indirectly, to the Victoria mill. Proceeds from these sales have been forwarded to the Red Cross and other charities.

Firemen Ask for Delivery Priority

Fire Chief Alex Munroe, back from the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' convention, held at Reno, Nevada, said today that the speaker who drew most attention during the four-day conference was Herbert Scott of London, who spoke to over 1,000 people. He gave an eye-witness account of the bombing of that great city last winter.

Scott was traveling through the United States on a lecture tour under the auspices of the British government telling Americans of the London raids and of the methods used in combating fire and providing protection for the populace. He showed pictures of the fire and damage and stated that everyone in the Old Country was fighting fires.

Chief Munroe expressed the opinion that Portland, Oregon, was the farthest advanced of any city on the coast in the development of an auxiliary fire force. At present the Rose City is training 1,000 civilians in fire fighting, so as to have qualified firemen in the case of emergency.

One of the most important resolutions passed by the convention was that of sending a letter to Washington, D.C., requesting priority on equipment deliveries for civic fire departments. At present the armed forces in the States had first call and fire departments were finding it difficult to secure equipment.

"This will affect Victoria," said Chief Munroe, "because most of our equipment is purchased from the United States."

The business sessions, which lasted from 6 in the morning until 9 in the evening, were taken up for the most part with discussions on fire-fighting tactics, new means to extinguish certain types of fires, communications, with emphasis on the use of radio, and by demonstrations.

"There were 569 delegates at the convention," the chief remarked, "and those hours of 6 until 9 were about the longest I've ever kept."

GOOD HABITS SUCCESS AID

Cultivation of good habits is a major factor in achieving success, Reg Harris, local manager of the Dominion Life Assurance Company and vice-president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada for British Columbia, told the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association at a luncheon in Spencer's dining-room today.

"The successful man does certain things he dislikes, while the unsuccessful man refrains from doing them," Mr. Harris said. He suggested the successful man finally lost, his dislike for those things which he originally considered disagreeable, like a person ceasing to use sugar in his coffee.

Dislikes could, in a large measure, be cured by conscientious formation of a good habit aimed at overcoming the distaste, he said.

He listed 12 talents enjoyed by various insurance agents and urged development of those most natural to the individual. Among the talents were those of belonging to groups and enjoying the prestige that lent. Another was the ability to do a day's work each day, without let down; a third to make friends, a fourth to sense insurance situations, a fifth to continue getting business, a sixth to reach all types of people, a seventh to use low pressure sales methods, an eighth to use charts adequately, a ninth to relate life insurance to the family budget, a tenth to get action, and eleventh to manage one's own financial affairs properly and a twelfth to translate thought into action—to do things without delay.

H. B. Witter presided and announced the next gathering will be held on October 21 at the Colwood Golf Club, where the annual tournament will be held.

Speaker of House To Address Club

Hon. James Allison Glen, Speaker of the House of Commons, will speak to a meeting of the Men's Canadian Club tomorrow afternoon in the Empress Hotel. His subject will be "Reconsecration of Ourselves to Canada's War Effort."

Mr. Glen's appearance has aroused so much interest that George H. Gowan, president of the men's club, has invited members of the Women's Canadian Club and other citizens interested to be at the Empress Hotel at 1 when they will be admitted. The men's luncheon will start at 12.15.

Glenn Straith Fuller, son of Mrs. Glenn V. Fuller of 1110 Fort Street, Victoria, has registered to attend Pomona College.

Patent Damage Award Appealed

The appeal of F. T. Daly and the Hi-Power Furnace and Stoker Co. against a Supreme Court ruling of Chief Justice Morrison confirming damages against him for alleged patent infringement, was heard by the Court of appeal here Monday. Judgment was reserved.

Louis Skelding sued Daly for the alleged infringement in respect to a sawdust burner patent. Judgment was awarded the plaintiff and the registrar appointed to fix damages. The registrar, following a hearing, established the number of burners made in alleged violation of the patent and on that basis fixed damages at $2,975. Daly appeals on the grounds that if the patent were infringed, the number was incorrect and damages too high.

J. M. Coady, K.C., appeared for the appellant and H. R. Bray for the respondent Skelding.

Asks for Recruits

Fire Chief Alex Munroe returned to the city on Saturday afternoon from the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' Convention at Reno. This morning he appealed for volunteers for the auxiliary fire force. There was a slump in applications last week and the chief announced that any wishing to apply could leave their names at his office at any time.

Drills are held five nights a week, the volunteer being allowed to choose any one night to suit his own convenience.

The exhibition of oils and water colors by A. M. D. Fairbairn, A.W.S., and Allan Edwards, at the Prince Robert House, in aid of its maintenance and supplies fund, will remain open all this week.

NO BAD VILLAINS, SAYS MONTGOMERY

"There are no bad villains," says Robert Montgomery, speaking purely from the viewpoint of the actor.

"Characterization is always more interesting than playing a straight role," he declares. "Villains offer the most fascinating type of characterization because they are rarely normal. A very small percentage of people are bad because they were born evil. There is invariably an explanation for the actions of a villain, and uncovering the reasons behind his actions adds fascination to playing a shady character."

Montgomery first looks for the human element in a villain, as he did before playing Philip Monrell in "Rage in Heaven," now playing at the Dominion Theatre.

Don Ameche in Capitol Comedy

The local screen is due to take a definite upswing towards the top in comedy and musical entertainment, with the advent of "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," which will open at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow. Paramount's musical film version of the gay, gag-packed comedy which had sophisticated Broadway audiences laughing for several seasons.

Considering that the picture stars Don Ameche and Mary Martin, and features in its important cast Oscar Levant, Virginia Dale, Connie Boswell and Rochester, directed by the ace director of musicals, Victor Schertzinger, the prospects for first-rate, snappy entertainment are bright indeed. Schertzinger, it will be recalled, is the man who directed such mirthy musical morsels as "Rhythm on the River," "Road to Singapore" and "Road to Zanzibar." The man has a genius for pleasing movie audiences out for a gay time.

OAK BAY THEATRE

A stamped that wasn't in the script menaced Franchot Tone and other stars during the filming of Universal's new frontier epic, "Trail of the Vigilantes," today at the Oak Bay Theatre. Working on location in the Sierra Nevada mountains, the film troupe met a train of pack mules that became frightened and stampeded. The stars scattered for cover while muleteers rounded up the unruly animals.

PLAZA THEATRE

"Melody for Three," now at the Plaza Theatre, in which he stars as "Dr. Christian," marked Jean Herscholt's 35th anniversary as an actor, a career begun as a lad in a Copenhagen, Denmark, stock company. "Melody for Three" is the fifth in the popular "Dr. Christian" series produced by Stephens-Lang.

Settlement Lands To Be Revalued

The B.C. Land Settlement Board today was authorized by the government to revalue all lands in the settlement of areas of central British Columbia along the line of the Canadian National Railways.

This is part of the board's program of putting land settlement agreements on a reasonable basis.

It was explained that the chief request for revaluation came from farmers in the Vanderhoof district, but the order covers all settlement areas in the central region.

Starts Tomorrow, Wed.

Royal Mail Line
Declares Dividend

Royal Mail Lines Ltd. recently announced from its headquarters office in London the financial results of its trading operations for this year 1940, and from particulars received by the Victoria office of the company it is revealed that the dividend paid to stockholders was maintained at 5 per cent (the same as paid in 1939), whilst substantial sums were again set aside for depreciation and renewal of fleet, both of which items loom largely in the minds of directors of shipping companies at this time—on account of the losses at sea by enemy action and the heavy wear and tear on vessels operating under war conditions.

In common with all other British shipping companies, Royal Mail Lines Ltd. has the whole of its fleet under requisition to the British government, which in practice means that voyages are directed by the government, which pays fixed rates of hire for the vessels and credits itself with the freights earned.

ALEX. MACDONALD,
SHIPBUILDER, DIES

Alexander Muir Macdonald, Scottish-born Seattle shipbuilder, who turned out a large fleet of wooden deep-sea cargo carriers for the Australian and United States governments in the first World War, is dead. He passed away Saturday at his home in Seattle after a six-month illness.

Recently he had been active in forming a company to resume shipbuilding from a proposed plant at Aberdeen, Wash. Mr. Macdonald learned his craft at the famous Clydebank shipbuilding centre in Scotland and helped to build the Cunard liner Lusitania, torpedoed May 7, 1915, with heavy loss of life. He organized the Patterson-Macdonald Shipbuilding Company at Seattle with Adam Patterson.

Two-Ocean Navy

17 U.S. Battleships
Now in Sea Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. navy announced today that every naval vessel authorized by law had been contracted for "in the creation of the greatest array of fighting ships under one flag the world has ever seen."

It disclosed also that two of the six new 35,000-ton battleships, the North Carolina and the Washington, had been added to the battle line this month as the first capital ship additions to go into service with the fleet since 1923. This gives the United States 17 battleships in actual service.

Another $80,000,000 dreadnaught, the South Dakota, was launched in June but has not yet been commissioned, and one week from today a fourth new battleship, the Massachusetts, will enter the water at Quincy, Mass.

A survey of vessels building and contracted for reveals "astounding progress" in accelerated construction of the two-ocean navy, the navy said. A total of 2,831 ships—combat vessels and auxiliaries—have been ordered since January 1, 1940, at a cost of $7,234,262,178. In addition, $460,000,000 has been allocated for the expansion of public and private shipbuilding facilities. The contract figures do not include small boats or lend-lease contracts.

Besides newly-constructed vessels, the navy this year has converted to military use 193 privately-owned ships for the constantly growing fleet of auxiliaries, such as hospital ships, store ships, oilers, supply and repair vessels. Eighty-one other vessels are now undergoing conversion. Most of this work is being handled in 110 private shipyards.

The scope of navy construction was painted in these figures on progress since January 1, 1941: keels laid, 436; launchings, 249; vessels commissioned, 213.

Radio Workshop
In Upper Harbor

Tenders are being called by the Dominion government for the erection of a radio workshop to be built in Victoria's upper harbor.

Bids will close with George W. Yates, secretary of the Department of Transport, September 18, plans and specifications being with the department at Ottawa and the transport agent in this city.

Site for the building has been acquired from the C.N.R. at the upper harbor foreshore, adjacent to the Department of Transport plant north of Johnson Street bridge.

TICKET AGENTS
ARE RELIEVED

Ticket agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway heaved a sigh of relief when they were notified that the schedules of the B.C. Coast Service and the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway would "return to normal" September 29.

It has been a continuous headache for them meeting the traveling public since daylight saving went into effect this summer explaining confusing arrivals and departures.

Canadian Pacific, last July 7, issued new time tables covering coast schedules and connecting trains on Vancouver Island, showing one hour earlier on standard time so they would be operating on the old hours in terms of daylight saving time.

Now, commencing one minute after midnight, September 28, the company will change it all back again, but so far as the public is concerned it all adds up to the same thing—the same boat sailings, the same train arrivals at the old times.

Some C.P.R. transcontinental train changes not connected with the changing time but purely seasonal in character are listed. However, effective today, train No. 3, the Dominion from Montreal and Toronto, arrives at Vancouver at 8:35 a.m. instead of 8:45 a.m. daily. Effective 12:01 midnight, Sunday, September 28, the new time table will show two changes in the Kettle Valley run. Train No. 11 from Medicine Hat by way of Nelson and Penticton will arrive Vancouver daily at 9:15 a.m., instead of 9:30 a.m., and No. 12, for the Kootenays, will leave Vancouver at 7:45 p.m., instead of 8:05 p.m. Train No. 1 will continue to arrive at 10:30 p.m., train No. 3 at 8:35 a.m., and No. 2 will leave for Calgary at 10 a.m., and No. 4 for Toronto and Montreal at 7:15 p.m. daily.

Massachusetts
Launch Sept. 23

WASHINGTON—Latest addition to the rapidly-expanding United States navy, the 35,000-ton battleship Massachusetts, will be launched September 23 and will be commissioned seven months ahead of schedule.

Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, wife of a former secretary of the navy, will be the ship's sponsor. The Massachusetts is the sixth navy craft to carry that name and the fourth battleship to be launched under the U.S. navy's present tremendous building program.

She will carry 16-inch armament and, navy officials say, will be "more powerful" than the German battleship Bismarck, recently sunk by the British.

The Massachusetts will slide down the ways at the Bethlehem Steel Company yard in Quincy, Mass.

A sister ship of the North Carolina, Washington and the South Dakota, all launched recently under the naval program, the new battleship will carry every modern device incorporated in the structure of her sister ships.

Congress authorized the ship to be built March 27, 1934, the contract for construction was awarded December 15, 1938, and the keel was laid July 20, 1939.

The Massachusetts will have a main battery of nine 16-inch guns mounted in three turrets as well as a battery of the latest anti-aircraft and secondary broadside guns. She will be equipped with turbines developing 115,000 horsepower and giving a designed speed in excess of 27 knots.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks groped their way through a fog of domestic and foreign questions in today's market. A number of specialties managed to edge into new high ground for the year and mild recovery tendencies elsewhere appeared in the final hour. Closing prices were no worse than slightly mixed.

Among stocks posting new tops for 1941 were Loew's, American Machine & Metal, Salvage Arms and Atlantic Gulf & West Indies common and preferred.

Consolidated Aircraft pushed up.

Occasional resistance was displayed by U.S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, N.Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Anaconda, Kennecott, U.S. Rubber, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, General Electric, Armour and Wilson & Co.

Canadian stocks were generally lower. Dome Mines, McIntyre and Lake Shore Mines, each lost 1/4 of a point while Walkers was 1/4 lower.

In the bond market Canada 4s were unchanged.

Foundation Up

MONTREAL (CP) — Prominent issues tracked irregularly through trading today on the stock market.

Strong spots among industrials were Foundation, at a new high, and Dominion Coal pfd., which picked up a point.

Imperial was down and C.P.R. was a fraction easier.

Mines were mixed, Noranda and Consolidated Smelters moving to the rear. International Nickel converted a loss into a gain.
